TOKEN STRIKE ON RAILROADS IS SPREADING

More Walkouts Reported
In Spite of President's Plea for Settlement of Dispute

WHITE HOUSE PARLEY

Washington, Aug. 22.—(P)—President Truman today called for renewed efforts to settle a nationwide railroad dispute as more workers walked off the job.

Mr. Truman told his top labor adviser, John R. Steelman, to get the union and railroad representatives into another conference. And Steelman promptly called them to a White House meeting.

They will meet in separate rooms, but Steelman hopes there will be some common ground to bring them together.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman gave this instruction to Steelman: "keep on trying."

So far the trying hasn't produced much results.

Railroaders struck today in Pittsburgh and Chicago despite a White House plea to stay on the job.

Lake shores called yesterday in Louisville, Cleveland and Minneapolis-St. Paul, these are 5-day token strikes. The idea is to call attention to a wage-hour dispute that has dragged on for 17 months.

All the strikes are comparatively small, but they are in such key spots union leaders have estimated they will put 50,000 men out of work.

An attempt to settle the dispute last night dragged on until after midnight—but got nowhere. There still was no indication that Mr. Truman planned to seize the roads.

Steelman said he had specifically requested the unions to call off their strikes, but that they refused.

Today's strikes went off like clockwork.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors called the walkout against U. S. Steel Corporation's Railroad, the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern, at Chicago, and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad, Pittsburgh.

The unions have demanded repeatedly that the president use seizure powers bestowed by a (Turn to Page Six)

Fox Hill Child Accidentally Drowns In a Crock of Water

Dale Edward, year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gage, who resides on the Fox Hill road, in Elk township, was accidentally drowned in a ten-gallon crock containing six or eight inches of water, while playing about the yard of the home at 11:15 o'clock this morning.

Although the tragedy was discovered soon afterwards by a sister, Betty Ann, aged 12, and firemen from Russell and Sugar Grove worked over the child with a pulmotor for some time, efforts to revive him were unavailing, and he was pronounced dead by a Warren physician who was rushed to the scene to administer first aid treatment.

The coroner's office was advised the crock had been left in the yard partly filled with water before being washed out. Details of the accident were unavailable at press time, but it is understood that the child fell into the crock head first. The mother at the time was at the Warren General Hospital where a child of a neighbor is a patient, and the father was working in a nearby field.

Besides the parents and the sister Betty Ann, there is another sister, Paula, aged 4.

Removal was made to the Peterson Funeral Home. Plans for the services will be announced later.

Senate Approval of Controls Bill Assures President Power To Invoke Curbs On Economy

Washington, Aug. 22.—(P)—Overwhelming senate approval of a home front mobilization bill virtually assured President Truman today the power to invoke wage-price-rationing controls and otherwise gear the nation to a wartime footing.

The senate passed the emergency measure last night by a whopping 85 to 3 vote. It did so after writing in some restrictions on the president's authority which administration forces battled against in vain.

The senate bill and an economic controls measure which the house approved on Aug. 10 are vastly different in some essential details, but both authorize Mr. Truman to impose wage-price curbs and other inflation controls.

So the bill which finally goes to the White House—after a senate-house conference committee ironed out differences between the two versions—certainly will carry wage-price-rationing authority.

Overriding vigorous administration opposition, the senate voted 50 to 36 to require the president to invoke wage and price controls simultaneously and virtually across the board if he imposed them at all. The amendment was sponsored by Republican Senators Bricker (Ohio) and Wherry (Neb.).

That directive killed a section of the administration bill which would have let Mr. Truman put wage and price controls into effect on a selective basis if he cared to, in advance of any overall program. Under this plan, he would not have had to invoke general wage ceilings until a substantial part of the economy was under price control.

Primary Elections Are Being Held Today In New York, Wyoming and Mississippi

By The Associated Press
Primary elections in New York, Wyoming and Mississippi today pick candidates to square off in the November elections for 53 house seats.

Delaware Democrats gathered in convention to name an opponent for Rep. J. Caleb Boggs, Republican aspirant for reelection.

Of the 54 house of representatives seats for which a wide field of hopefuls is fighting, 45 are in New York.

Party conventions Sept. 6 and 7 will name New York's candidates for governor and U. S. senator.

Only five New York members of Congress faced opposition for renomination in today's balloting. They are W. Sterling Cole, Edwin A. Hall, and Clarence E. Kilburn, Republicans, and Joseph L. Pfeiffer and Louis B. Heller, Democrats.

Rep. Vito Marcantonio, the only American Laborite in Congress has no opposition for renomination. But the Democrats, Republicans and Liberty party are backing former Democratic State Senator James G. Donovan as a coalition candidate to unseat him in the November election.

Wyoming's primary is spiced by hot races for the Republican and (Turn to Page Six)

LABOR IN POLITICS
Harrisburg, Aug. 22.—(P)—The state AFL wants its local unions to join with the CIO and other labor groups in backing pro-labor candidates in the Nov. 7 general election. James L. McDevitt, president of the AFL Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, said an estimated 1,600,000 union members in the commonwealth should be made "aware of the issues at stake and the importance of a victory in November." The state AFL already has endorsed the entire statewide Democratic slate. The CIO also is expected to do so.

"THAT'S THEM!"—Raising himself from a stretcher in the courtyard of a field hospital in Taegu, South Korea, this G. I., one of five survivors of a group brutally massacred by the Communists, points with an accusing finger to these North Korean prisoners as he identifies them as having taken part in the butchery.

Two Deaths Follow Neighborhood Quarrel

Bethlehem, Aug. 22.—(P)—William Eck, a 45-year-old electrician, went out to cut his lawn last night.

His next door neighbor, August Meinberg, 47, came out of his house as Eck was mowing the lawn at the boundary of the two properties.

Ten minutes later both of them were dead. Michael Fox, captain of detectives, listed the deaths as murder and suicide. He said Meinberg shot Eck with a 12-gauge double-barreled shot gun and then turned the weapon on himself.

Fox said the two had been quarreling for more than a year. The argument began, Fox said, when Eck cut branches from a dead tree and littered part of Meinberg's lawn.

Security Council Meets Again Today

Lake Success, Aug. 22.—(P)—The Security Council meets again today, for what appears certain to be its ninth no-progress session of Russian Jakob A. Malik's tenure as president.

Despite his own failure earlier in the month to oust the Chinese Nationalists and seat Communist China, Malik was expected to present a similar demand made this week by Red China's Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai. Chou, like Russia, also seeks participation of North Korean representatives in the council debates on the Korean war.

Other council members were certain to greet Chou's demand as coldly as they earlier rejected Malik's.

Not was there any progress in the procedural deadlock which has stalled decisive council action.

The council met informally in closed session yesterday. Malik, whose one-month tenure as the group's president expires Aug. 31, proposed again that the North Koreans be invited to the public meetings.

Landing Is Made On Island Off Inchon

A Korean Port, Aug. 22.—(P)—A Korean navy spokesman said today South Korean Marines landed yesterday on Ejak Island off Inchon, port of Seoul on the Yellow Sea.

The landing was the third made in the past week far behind enemy lines in that area.

No details were given.

South Korean Marines aided by Allied planes were mopping up enemy forces in the Tongyong area on the extreme southern coastal front.

The Marines landed from the sea Friday on the South Coast to prevent a possible invasion of Kojie Island just east of the Tongyong Peninsula.

Boro Park Commission Outlines Plans For War Memorial Field Improvements

A program for equipping and improving War Memorial field at a cost of approximately $200,000, to include a swimming pool and fabricated elevated steel stands for baseball fans back at home plate, was considered at a meeting of the Park Commission of the borough at a meeting in the Municipal building last night.

The program would be financed by means of a bond issue and would also include at least 1000 additional portable bleachers for both baseball and football, a field house with public rest rooms as well as shower rooms for home and visiting teams, suitable press and radio booths, and refreshment stands.

It is expected that a resolution outlining the program to make the field a suitable and lasting memorial in tribute to Warren county men and women who lost their lives in two World Wars will be submitted at the next meeting of the borough council.

The installations outlined above would be in addition to a memorial building with plaque containing names of those who lost their lives in the service of their country, planned for the entrance, along with beautification of the spot between the Lexington avenue curb and the main gate, which is to be financed from money in what is called the Pamilee fund, a bequest left to the borough some years ago to be used in financing some form of permanent park improvement for the benefit of the community generally.

It is estimated that a swimming pool completely equipped with lights, filtering system, bath houses, etc., would cost approximately $100,000. Actual cost of elevated bleachers, press booth, field house, refreshments stand, it is expected would require at least another $100,000.

S. E. Kuhre, chairman of the Park Commission, presided at last night's meeting.

Channel Swimming Records Broken By Two Swimmers In Mass Race To Dover

Dover, Eng., Aug. 22.—(P)—Five persons swam the English Channel from France to Dover today, two of them making the 19-mile crossing in record time.

Plowing through rain and choppy seas in a mass race sponsored by a London newspaper, Hassan Ab-El Rehim, 41, of Egypt, and Roger Le Morvan, 26, of France, broke the 24-year-old record of 31 hours and five minutes set by another Frenchman, Georges Michel.

Rehim's official time was 10 hours and 53 minutes. Morvan was 10 minutes behind Rehim, finishing the 19-mile course in 11 hours and three minutes. Rehim won £1,000 ($2,800) from the London Daily Mail, sponsor of the race, for finishing first. It was his third successful channel swim. As he emerged from the water, the big six-footer declared: "I feel very good. I'm not tired at all. I'm ready to swim back."

Third to finish was Mareeh Hassan Hamad, 33, also of Egypt. His time was 12 hours and 16 minutes.

Sam Rockett of England was fourth, reaching shore in 14 hours, eight minutes. Fifth was William Edward Harnie, 54-year-old Scotsman, whose time was 14 hours, 49 minutes.

Of the 24 starters, six remain in the water, including two women. Rehim led the field almost from the moment they jumped in at Cap Gris Nez in the darkness.

U. N. Troops and Tanks Hold Firm or Counter-Attack Along Entire Beachhead Battlefront

By The Associated Press
Southern Front: U. S. infantry retakes all ground lost to sharp Communist attacks, foil breakthrough for Red drive on Pusan.

Central Front: Red battalion repulsed in attack on U. S. 23rd regiment, and Communists lost four of nine tanks. Americans wipe out roadblock behind their lines.

Eastern Front: South Koreans edge ahead along coast.

Air and Sea: Land-based Allied planes rip Red positions behind lines, destroying tanks, buildings, boxcars, big gun positions. Other planes smash at targets inside North Korea. U. S. naval units bombard and silence battery on east coast, shell Reds in support of advancing South Koreans.

Hong Kong: Observers see loss of Red momentum bringing about Communist effort to save face in some kind of "peaceful settlement."

Washington: Korean war has built up U. S. Army, Navy and Air Corps. Capital hears more than ten billions will be needed if Reds are to be pushed beyond 38th parallel.

Lake Success: Security Council prepares to meet again, but no progress is expected against Soviet procedural blockade on Korea question.

Tokyo, Aug. 22.—(P)—American infantrymen slammed back a Red Korean advance on the gateways to Pusan port Tuesday and wiped out a Communist roadblock infiltration under artillery fire 10 miles from Taegu.

These were the day's fiercest, blazing actions on the 120-mile Korean beachhead battlefront.

Allied fighting men and tanks held firm or counter-attacked all along the line against the combined weight of nine enemy divisions, 90,000 men—stacked up with armor to drive on Taegu and Pusan.

The fighting on the south coastal approaches to Pusan, No. 1 Allied seaport on the southeast tip of the peninsula, roared for the third successive day.

Three times the men of the U. S. 25th division infantry beat back the attacking Reds on that blood-stained road.

First, the U. S. 36th Regiment drove a numerically superior North Korean force off a key ridge near Chungam, 35 miles west of Pusan.

Then negro troops of the 24th Regiment recaptured nearby "battle mountain" for the fifth time in four days. And the 5th Regimental combat team from Hawaii fought its way back to commanding heights of the Sobuk Hills near Tundok, just south of Chungam.

In the north above Taegu, 45-odd Pershing tanks drove back a Red assault led by nine tanks in the fourth day of continual thrusts at the central front Allied supply base.

Allied intelligence officers said the North Koreans had shoved

Seventy B-29s Slam Nearly 700 Tons Of Bombs On Enemy Industrial Targets

Tokyo, Aug. 22.—(P)—Seventy B-29s, roaring within 60 miles of Russian territory, slammed nearly 700 tons of bombs at North Korean military and industrial targets today.

The principal target was Chongjin, west coast industrial city on the Sea of Japan, U. S. Far East Air Forces headquarters said.

Chongjin is 40 miles from the Manchurian border and less than 60 miles from the Russian maritime provinces.

The B-29s plastered Chongjin with more than 500 tons of bombs dropped through clouds. Targets were the railyards, deep water port and the former Japanese Mitsubishi Iron Works.

B-29s roared over the target in waves for almost an hour.

Returning crewmen said "we had excellent scope definition" for the bomb drops by radar.

Other B-29s struck at bridges and smaller industrial targets.

The bombers, from Japan and Okinawa, ran into heavy icing conditions.

Maj. Leslie J. Westberg, Milwaukee, said his crew saw their bombs hit into the dock area at Chongjin.

Maj. Richard M. Hoban, Little Rock, flew in waves bombing railyards and factories at Songjin.

Songjin, also on the Japan Sea, is 85 miles south of Chongjin.

Crews said the Songjin railyards were jammed with traffic. Bombs hit rolling stock and started fires.

While the B-29s hit North Korea, U. S. Fifth Air Force and Royal Australian fighters attacked Communist troops and vehicles in the battle area.

B-26 light bombers and F-82 twin Mustangs flew night intruder missions. Day fighters roared out at dawn.

Four Traffic Accidents Involving Loss Of $1,400 Investigated By State Police

With three accidents investigated over the week-end, state police yesterday added four more to their August score. The crashes resulted in an estimated $1400 in property damage and minor injuries to two persons.

The most serious occurred about 5 p. m. yesterday on the Russell-Scandia road about four miles east of Russell when cars operated by Herman Rockwell, of Akoley, and Titus L. Bechtel, of Souderton, Pa., collided. Police said that Rockwell was traveling east on the road and Bechtel was on the inside meeting the Bechtel car almost head on.

Mrs. Grace Bechtel, 29, and Shirley Ann Bechtel, 12, passengers, were given emergency treatment at Warren General Hospital for minor lacerations, bruises and shock, and discharged.

Damage to the Bechtel car was estimated at $875, and to Rockwell's car about $150. Rockwell was arrested on a charge of failure to yield one-half of the highway.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By MILTON MARMOR (For Hal Boyle)
Aboard a U. S. Carrier off Korea (P)—Remember Ben Cassidy? The former West Point track athlete now is Maj. Benjamin B. Cassidy, Jr., of the Air Force. He's one of the so-called "exchange pilots" flying carrier-based jets in a program designed to acquaint the Air Force ground-based airmen with the problems of carrier aviation. Ben, who calls Honolulu his home, has been zipping up and down the Korean battlefield since this carrier went into action in the early days of the conflict. But he remembers well his days as West Point's top hurdle performer. There were times when he could be bested on the track but he has few peers as a pilot. It was a few months ago, back in the states, that Cassidy flew 600 miles in 54 minutes—a record-breaking flight in one of the Air Force's F-86 Sabre Jets. Ben frankly admits he was no record-breaker at West Point—just a good track man. In 1943, he anchored the academy's winning 880-relay team at the Penn relays and represented Army in other meets. Upon graduation from the Point, Cassidy was assigned to the Mediterranean theater in World War II. He flew P-47s on 117 missions. When the war was over he had a string of ribbons and medals including the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the British D. F. C., Soldier's Medal and the Air Medal. Came peace and Ben's thoughts returned to track. In 1945, he was 23-years-old and felt in good shape. He entered the G. I. Olympics at Berlin but someone beat him to the tape in the hurdles races these.

Shortly before, however, he had run off with the hurdle events in the Air Force championships at Nuernberg. He came home and ran in the 1948 Penn relays but his Air Force team finished fourth in the 400-meter relay. Then Ben turned again to flying—this time to jets. Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Holmes and daughters, Patty and Carol have returned home after spending a few days' vacation in New York City and Washington, D. C. In New York City they visited an army buddy of Mr. Holmes of World War II. Preaching services will be held in the Torpedo church next Sunday afternoon at 2:30. A new minister is scheduled to conduct the services. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ahlquist and children, John and Janet, attended the Lynn family reunion Sunday.

AMUSEMENTS

JACK FINA AND HIS ORCHESTRA
Jack Fina for the past eleven years—until organizing his own great new orchestra which comes to the Pier Ballroom in Celoron Park on August 26, 1950—was featured pianist and musical arranger for the Freddy Martin organization.

Fina is responsible for the modern interpretations of Tschaiakowski and Rachmannoff and other immortal composers. The forerunner of this type of music that was to put the Martin crew in national prominence was Jack's piano interpretation of Tschaiakowsky's Piano Concerto in B Flat Minor, introduced as "Tonight We Love." The arrangement met with instant national success (the Victor Record waxing has sold over 2,000,000 copies to date) and brought forth Jack Fina as one of the nation's truly great piano stylists. The numbers' popularity prompted Fina to orchestrate Grieg's Piano Concerto ("I Look at Heaven") and his latest and many say his greatest, "Bumble Boogie," adapted from the "Flight of the Bumble Bee," by Rimski-Korsakov. This number—another top Victor seller with Martin's orchestra and Mercury's pride and joy as a Fina solo recording—will be featured by the young maestro in a forthcoming Columbia picture as yet untitled.

WHAT KEEPS THE SMALL TOWN SMALL?

There is considerable food for thought in the following submitted for publication by a subscriber of the Times-Mirror who suggests the above line as a suitable heading: "The recent census figures indicate that Warren decreased slightly in population instead of increasing as most other cities did. More children were born here than the number of people who died. The average age of the remaining population is greater. What then became of the younger people who should have been counted here as our population increase?"

"There is no doubt about it, they have left Warren for jobs that have a brighter and better future. They have repeatedly seen Warren industries keep good men in responsible positions for years. Supporting the management with all their ability, but when the time comes that their efforts should be rewarded with promotion, they find themselves 'sold down the river.' New management takes over. The employees are invited to stay, but with no more formality than goes with handing over the leash of a bound dog."

"These young people also see the efforts of Warren workers leaving town. What is more natural than for them to leave for places where those profits are spent? The people who were the loudest 'shouters' a few years ago about carnivals and circuses taking 'all the money out of town' for a week or two, sell large businesses to outside companies who drain off the profits every week in the year. Furthermore, the salaries of the higher officials who formerly lived here, become salaries of non-resident presidents, vice presidents, etc."

"Warren's hope of growing lies in a hope that the remaining businesses and factories are not managed by men of 'little confidence and near sightedness.' It lies in a hope that the remaining industries and the new owners of those 'sold down the river,' will recognize the able employees and give them promotions when they are available. It lies in a promise to the young men, who commanded airplanes, and ships, and groups of fighting men worth fortunes, that they have an opportunity to reach positions of equal responsibility here in Warren."

"When Warren industry demonstrates a willingness to recognize and use the talent available, Warren industries will grow; but as long as other cities are allowed to take the profits of our industry away, and the most aggressive of our young people leave for lack of recognition, we will remain on the down grade."

"I refer you to the sale of: Newell Press, Warren Axe & Tool Co., DeLuxe Metal Furniture Co."

ACCIDENT REPEATERS

The worst killers on our highways are the accident repeaters—the relatively few drivers who get into accidents over and over again. In The Reader's Digest for September, Clarence Woodbury reports that accident repeaters—about four percent of all drivers—account for 36 percent of all accidents. These figures emerge from an analysis of the records of thousands of drivers, made by Yale University over a six-year period. The same studies disclose that 81 percent never had been involved in serious accidents, and another 15 percent had had only one accident each.

Woodbury's article, condensed from The American Legion Magazine, gives further results of the Yale analysis. The driver who has been in one accident is twice as likely to get into another as the driver who has never been involved; the two-accident driver is three times as prone to another as the man who has had none; and the four-accident repeater is seven times as likely to crash as the man with a clean record.

Other statistical studies support the Yale findings, revealing a consistent pattern of highway casualties attributable to the small percentage of repeaters. Last year more than 10,000 Americans were killed and about 350,000 injured by drivers who had been in previous accidents. Probably the best known case on record is that of 29-year-old Hugh Gravitt, Atlanta taxi driver who ran down and killed Margaret Mitchell, author of "Gone With the Wind." Gravitt had previously committed 21 other traffic offenses, most of them serious.

Researchers discovered that repeaters are not as emotionally stable as drivers with clean records, that they know less about driving regulations, prefer higher driving speeds and are "cockier about their tolerance of alcohol."

The taxi driver Gravitt is in prison, but thousands of others equally as dangerous are loose on our roads. We could and should purge the highways of accident repeaters, the author says, through stricter licensing laws and examinations, and severer penalties. New York State has just inaugurated a program providing for the reexamination of all drivers involved in three accidents within an 18-month period. Connecticut has had a similar plan in force since 1947, and the state's accident rate has dropped sharply as a result.

Here And There

Mrs. William Schueltz, 111 Central avenue, whose father was Dexter Niver, is the owner of a copy of the Democratic Advocate, printed July 26, 1844, by S. J. Goodrich and Jay James, which is by far one of the most interesting copies of early papers printed in Warren that has come to our attention for a long time. No local news is printed on page one, most of the space in the six columns being taken up with a discussion of the hot presidential campaign being waged at the time between Henry Clay and James K. Polk. Pages two, three and four are pretty well filled with advertising and small items of local interest, among which are found the following:

The public is respectfully invited to attend an examination of the students of the Warren Academy on Friday and Saturday, commencing at nine o'clock a. m. The Hickory Club of the borough of Warren will meet at the Democratic Headquarters, next Saturday evening at seven o'clock precisely.

We had concluded to publish a list of all the changes from whigery to democracy but we find it will occupy too much of our paper. Indeed, some weeks, to notice all the changes, and the circumstances connected with them, would nearly fill one-half of it. It must suffice, therefore, to inform our readers that every mail brings news of numerous changes, but of only the more prominent, but of the bone and muscle—the "telling millions," to Polk and Dallas.

Listed in a column headed "Business Cards" are the following: James and Goodrich, attorneys at law; L. T. Farnlee, attorney and counselor; Galbraith and Goodrich, counselors; J. Dennis James, attorney and counselor; Struthers, Johnson and Brown, attorneys and counselors; D. V.

Stranaghan, physician and surgeon; Mansion House, by Richard S. Orr, Water street; Church and Towle, fashionable tailors; Mrs. P. R. Bennett, milliner and mantua-maker; Mrs. S. A. Flynn, tailoress; Z. Dickinson, blacksmith; Dudley's New York branch store; A. P. and B. Mead, carriages and buggies and H. T. Baker and Co., shoe merchants.

This And That: A total of 62 candidates for the Corry High School football team were issued equipment last week and began pre-season training. Corry is scheduled to meet the Dragons on War Memorial Field Saturday, September 9th. . . . Harold Kellogg Linotype operator on the Evening Times, over a quarter of a century ago, now employed on the Meadville Republican, paid the office a visit Monday afternoon. He found only a couple printers around the shop when he worked here. . . . The front cover of the magazine section of The Christian Science Monitor July 29, is of more than usual interest to Warren readers, since it contained a full page reproduction of an oil painting by Elton W. Davis, former local artist, entitled "The Pirates," and calling particular attention to a story with colored pictures entitled "Hispaniola, Aboy," on pages ten and eleven of the edition. . . . The Times-Mirror received mention in a column headed "Oddities In News," in the Philadelphia Inquirer last Friday, when an item concerning our anniversary week pay in silver dollars was reprinted. . . . David Lynn, Farho, three-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fargo, Columbus, according to the Corry Journal, is doing nicely in Children's Hospital, Pittsburgh, where the baby underwent a rare and difficult operation to correct a stomach ailment discovered shortly after he was born.

Morning Roundup: Plans are going forward rapidly for appropriate leave-taking ceremonies when Company I departs for Camp Atterbury, Ind., some time next month. According to the present arrangements it will follow closely the pattern set up on similar occasions in the past. . . . The Park Commission of the borough held a meeting last evening in the municipal building to discuss an outline of a proposal that will probably be presented to Council for needed improvements at War Memorial Field to make it a fitting and lasting tribute to Warren borough and county heroes of two World Wars. The program discussed will doubtless be adopted and presented council at an early meeting. . . . In two weeks school vacations will be over and the kids will be back in class rooms. . . . Mention of the plaque dedication at Pymatuning Sunday attended by a group of Warren men, in honor of Bob Lambertson, should have stated that he is a member of the State Game Commission, and one of the "livest" sports boosters in the section. We are indebted to a member of the Warren Field & Stream Club for calling attention to the erroneous statement, and our apologies to "Bob!"

Ben Stong of National Farmers' Union tells the story of a farmer, driving briskly along a country road. He stopped to pick up a government worker, and gave him a lift into town. Pretty soon they came on a turtle, waddling laboriously across the road. The farmer chuckled. "Reminds me of a government worker," he said, "loafing on the job." Then a rabbit jumped out of the bushes and dashed across the road. This time the government worker chuckled. "That rabbit reminds me," he said, "of a farmer driving to town to cash his government price support check."

United States is now practically independent of Russian supplies of manganese ores for making high-grade steel. In 1948, over 34 per cent of U. S. supplies came from Russia. Last year only 5 per cent of U. S. supplies came from Russia.

Congress has already held extensive hearings on price support program and at the end of June, Commodity Credit Corporation lending authority was increased by $2,000,000,000, to a total of $6,750,000,000. This additional appropriation was considered necessary to keep farm prices from falling too low. But now the farm price support program is more or less academic. All farm prices are expected to stay well above support levels, and little of the $2,000,000,000 may be needed.

Youngsville WCTU Lects Officers At Picnic - Gathering Reunion of School Groups is Enjoyed By More Than 100

Youngsville, Aug. 22.—Mrs. H. H. Husted was hostess Friday evening for the annual picnic and reunion of the WCTU and its members. The gathering was held on the terrace beside the tokenstraw creek. About 30 were seated at the long table from which the bountiful dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Deshner brought a surprise dessert of ice cream and fruit drink, which added much to the cake, pie and cookies already provided. Grace was given by Rev. John Bargar, pastor of the Free Methodist church.

At the regular meeting of the association, which preceded the dinner, Mrs. C. C. Johnson, president, was in charge. Mrs. Viola Thayer conducted devotions and roll call was in the form of scripture verses and hymns.

Mrs. Elgia Redmond, member of the organization, who spent last winter with her son in New England and most of this summer with her sister in Pittsfield, was the speaker. She presented an encouraging and interesting program covering the importance of praying in any form of Christian work, the work of Alcoholics Anonymous and other forms of temperance activities, some of which were given in readings by members.

During the business session it was voted to purchase the National WCTU program forms and material planned for use in meetings, and the importance of work in high schools through the operation of school instructors was mentioned.

The annual election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. C. C. Johnson; vice president, Mrs. Viola Thayer; recording secretary, Mrs. Stanley Deshner; corresponding secretary, Miss Nellie Knapp; treasurer, Mrs. Bertha Meyer.

Mrs. Mary Briggs was appointed head of the devotional department and will arrange for leaders for the meetings. Mrs. Lee Rogers was continued in the office of flower mission superintendent. A committee was also named to make out new programs.

Announcement was made that the September meeting will be on Friday, the 15th.

The 37th annual reunion of the Clendenen and Friendship schools was held Saturday in the Friendship school in Elk township, with members present from Erie, Fredonia, Forestville, Jamestown, Sharpville, Warren, Russell, Akeley, Frewsburg, Stillwater and Falconer.

In spite of unfavorable weather, the attendance was the largest in many years, over 100 persons including former teachers, pupils, their families and several visitors.

A delicious buffet luncheon was enjoyed from one until two o'clock, after which the business session was called to order by the president, David Nelson. The 1951 reunion will be held at the same place in the third Saturday in August and officers for the ensuing year will be as follows: President, David Nelson, Stillwater, N. Y.; vice president, David Van Orsdale, Akeley; secretary, Mrs. C. C. Jury, reelected; treasurer, Mrs. Blanche Brownell, reelected, and both of Warren.

At the conclusion of routine business, President Nelson surrendered the chair to Mrs. Isabelle Tuller, chairman of the program committee, who presented the following numbers:

Lord's Prayer, by the assembly; humorous recitation, Mrs. Mary Jones, Sharpville, the former Mary Casey, a teacher in Friendship school in 1905 and one well versed in rhetoric; short talk, Jefferson Sears, former teacher in the Clendenen school; original poem, "Memories of School Days", Mrs. C. C. Jury; reading, "Courtesy and a Cop", Mrs. Jefferson Sears; reading, Mrs. Della VanAradale, Fredonia; several accordion selections, Mrs. Dorothy Engstrom and son, Bobby, whose solo and duet numbers were followed by several special requests; closing song, "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again".

Ice cream and cake were served and the remainder of the time was spent in visiting and renewing old acquaintances.

CONFIRMAND REUNION OF SARON LUTHERANS

A special invitation is extended to all confirmands of Saron Lutheran church in Youngsville, and to interested members of the parish and friends, to attend the confirmand reunion to be held Wednesday in Island Park. Activities get under way at 4 p. m. and a tureen picnic is to be served at six o'clock. The program includes guest speakers, special music, and sports for young and old. It is hoped that several former pastors will be in attendance. One of the speakers planned for is Rev. Nore G. Gustafson, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Warren.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH CARDMAN.—Photo by Stoke JR.

At 7 p. m. August 16 in First Methodist church, the Rev. Wayne Furman performed the double ring ceremony in which Jean Carleen Marlett, daughter of Mason Marlett, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Robert Hepler, 310 East street, became the bride of S/Sgt. Joseph Cardman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cardman, 3318 West 12th street, Erie.

The impressive candlelight service included music by George Johnson at the organ and Gordon Odmark, vocalist.

Wearing white satin and Chantilly lace and carrying a white Bible covered with roses and satin streamers, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Frank Marlett. Attending her as matron of honor was Mrs. Gordon Bennett; as bridesmaid, Mrs. William Lawson, and as ring bearer, Karen Lee Cardman.

Completing the bridal party, James Cardman, Erie, was best man for his brother, and ushers were cousins of the bride, Robert Eames and Robert Collins.

A reception for 75 guests followed in the church parlors, with Mrs. Ray Collins, Mrs. Louis Collins and Mrs. Harry Phinney assisting at the tea table.

The newlyweds left later for a wedding trip to Washington and southern points. The bride is a graduate of Warren High School, Class of 1950, and the bridegroom, alumnus of Academy High in Erie 1946, has served three years in the U. S. Air Forces.

Mrs. Ray Collins honored the bride-elect with a shower and the rehearsal dinner was given by her aunt, Mrs. Newell Nollinger.

Popularity Test: Do You Want Others to Be Really Happy?

WANT to know whether or not you are genuinely liked by those you live, work and share your leisure time with? There's a very simple test, if you care to answer one question honestly.

Do you really want other people to be happy? A lot of people don't, you know. They are the people who are always telling you something for your own good. Who like to put doubt into other's minds. Who love to relate sad news. Who like to talk about their troubles. Who can always find flaws in everything or point out the disadvantages in any situation.

Such people are never genuinely liked. How could they be? They always leave you feeling worse, instead of better; less pleased with yourself, instead of more so; less satisfied with what you have.

A FEW TESTS

If you habitually spring bad news on your husband the minute he walks through the door at night, you aren't the kind of person who really likes to make other people happy.

If you say "No" to your children when there is no good reason for not saying "Yes," if their high spirits annoy and irritate you, if you are constantly nagging at them, then you don't really want to see them happy.

If the letters you write are full of gloom and bad news and complaints, then you aren't writing a letter to make another person happy.

The persons who are generally and genuinely well liked are those who like to see others happy and contribute what they can to that happiness.

Examine your own friends in the light of whether or not they seem to want to see you happy and pleased with life. You'll soon discover that the reason you always get a lift from seeing Sarah is that she never does anything or says anything to pull you down into the dumps. And that the reason you always leave Sue feeling a bit disgruntled is because Sue doesn't really want to see anyone too pleased with his lot in life.

Joanne Erickson Is Given Parties

Joanne Erickson, who will be the bride of William Sandberg, Jr., on Saturday of this week, has been honored guest for a number of delightful shower parties in the past few weeks.

One of these was a personal shower, for which her sister, Mrs. Charles Tranter, entertained twenty guests at her home, 418 Market street. Games were enjoyed and prizes were awarded to Mrs. A. W. Erickson and Mrs. John Mitchell. To conclude, a two course luncheon was served. Favors were pink watering cans in keeping with the large, crepe paper-covered watering can which contained many beautiful gifts for the bride-elect.

At a previous party given at the National Forge clubhouse at Irvine, hostesses were Mrs. George Mack, Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. Walter Dale and Mrs. Allen Nelson. Dub's bridge was enjoyed by the 35 guests, with high prizes awarded to Mrs. George Walter, Miss Corrine Sandberg, Mrs. Earl Walter, Miss Charlotte Sandberg, Miss Clara Erickson and Mrs. Charles Tranter; consolations to Mrs. Gordon Clark, Mrs. Sagrid Johnson, Miss Joanne Erickson, Mrs. Bertha Walter and Mrs. Lillian Rydholm.

The color scheme for decorations was yellow and white, with gifts concealed beneath a large yellow umbrella suspended from the ceiling by yellow and white streamers. A two course luncheon was served at small tables centered with sweet peas, with small yellow and white umbrellas as favors. Miss Erickson was showered with many useful gifts for her future home.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

THERE is no shortage of sugar. Not only in the United States, but all over the world the 1949-50 sugar crop is the largest on record. Any temporary shortage on your grocer's shelves is being caused by housewives' hysterical attempts to hoard, not by any real shortage in the warehouses or at the refineries.

So plan to go ahead with your normal jelly and jam making. Use plums, pears and peaches and the other seasonal fruits. Here are sure-fire recipes even an amateur cook can be certain about:

Peach, Pineapple and Plum Jam
(Makes about 12 glasses)

Four cups prepared fruit, ¼ cup lemon juice, 7 cups sugar, 1 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare the fruit: Peel and pit about ¼ pound soft ripe peaches. Chop very fine or grind. Pare 1 small, fully ripe pineapple. Grind or chop very fine. Pit (do not peel) about ¼ pound fully ripe plums. Cut in small pieces and chop fine. Combine fruits and measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. Squeeze the juice from 2 medium-sized lemons. Measure ¼ cup into the saucepan with fruit.

To make the jam: Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and bottle by turns for five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

Pear and Plum Jam
(Makes about 12 glasses (6 fluid ounces each))

Four and one-half cups prepared fruit, 7½ cups sugar, 1 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit: Peel and core about 2 pounds fully ripe pears. Grind or chop very fine. Pit about 1½ pounds fully ripe plums (do not peel), cut in small pieces and crush thoroughly. Add ¼ cup water, bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, five minutes. Combine fruits.

To make the jam: Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large saucepan, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over high heat. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard one minute. Remove from heat and stir in bottle fruit pectin. Skim; pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, link sausage, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, peach, pineapple and plum jam, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Salmon and egg salad, sliced tomatoes, crisp rolls, butter or fortified margarine, blueberries, light cream, tea, milk.

DINNER: Canadian bacon and corn souffle, lettuce and chopped raw vegetable salad, French dressing, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, peach pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

and Mrs. Clayton Larson, refreshments.

The remainder of the afternoon was enjoyed in games and contests for young and old, with prizes awarded by Stuart Larson, Derrick City, who was in charge of this portion of the program.

TUMBLING TUMBLERS

Drinking glasses are called tumblers after the early English glassblowers, which had no base upon which to stand. These had to be held in the hand or else they tumbled over.

Senate Approval of Controls Bill Assures Power

The house bill permits selective controls. Besides the wage-price rationing authority and the allocation and priorities powers, the measure provides for: 1. Control of consumer credit, and credit covering new construction and major remodeling started after Aug. 3. 2. A ban on hoarding of scarce consumer goods and industrial materials. The president would designate scarce items. Violators would be subject to penalties ranging up to a $10,000 fine and a year in jail. 3. Government seizure of privately owned plants and other facilities if they were needed in the defense effort. Provision is made for just compensation and return to owners after the emergency. 4. A $2,000,000,000 government loan and loan guarantee program to encourage defense production. 5. Consideration by the president of the wage and price levels of the period May 24-June 24, 1950, in the fixing of wage-price ceilings. The bill permits but does not require a rollback to that period, with some exceptions which might include all farm commodities. 6. Setting up special machinery for the mediation and arbitration of labor disputes affecting national defense. The procedure would have to be in line with terms of the Taft-Hartley law and other existing labor acts. 7. Exemption from the anti-trust laws and the federal trade act in the case of voluntary agreements entered into by business firms at the request of the president.

The RANGE DOCTOR by OSCAR J. FRIEND

Chapter 12 MOST people had to work hard or pay in some manner for what they got, but there was one person so favored of the gods he had only to wander aimlessly around to stumble on good fortune at every turn. This effortless child of destiny was Sheriff Hugh Matlock. For no reason at all Matlock went fishing on Monday. By early afternoon he had caught two medium sized catfish and was about to call it quits when he gave a tentative pull at his line. Behind the elasticity of the cording there was a dead weight which told him he had probably snagged a piece of submerged driftwood. With a prodigious sigh of patient weariness at the scruffy trick chance had played on him, he hauled away. Before the line was half in, his sleepy eyes were wide open in amazement and he was playing the line carefully against the current. He had snared the body of a man. Matlock recognized the truculent chin and sandy-red hair. This was the body of Rusty Scanlon, and there was a five-hundred-dollar reward for this outlaw, dead or alive. The sheriff did not stop to question this gift of the gods. Methodically he caught his horse, lashed his hind against the saddle, and set out for town afoot. Joe Haskell came to the door of the barber shop at the sight of the sheriff on foot. Wearily Matlock tied his horse to an awning post and entered the shop. "Got a dead outlaw for you, Joe. Take him in and send for the coroner." Matlock relaxed in the serene assurance he had earned every cent of the reward money. He did not get up as Dr. Logan, accompanied by Griggsby, entered the shop. The editor fired a crisp question at him. "Who's the dead outlaw, Sheriff, and where'd you kill him?" The name's Rusty Scanlon, and I fished him out of the river. He answered heavily, transferring his attention to Logan. "Want to look him over, Doc?" Logan, biting his lip, flung back the concealing blanket with a swift motion. As Haskell bent forward to assist, he proceeded with his unpleasant task without faltering. "I should judge he has been dead for more than twenty-four hours. What are the details, Sheriff?" Briefly Matlock related the facts, never troubling to falsify the account. "And if somebody don't show up pronto with plenty of proof they killed him, the reward money's mine." "And that's all you're going to do about it?" Logan demanded. Matlock shrugged. "What more is there to do? As far as I'm concerned this inquest is closed. Write out your findin's, Doc." The sheriff was laboriously levering himself out of his chair when the thudding sound of running feet came through the front of the funeral parlor. A thin individual with a red and freckled face dashed into the room. "They said I'd find yuh here." "Here I am, Gates," answered Matlock, dropping back into his seat. "What's eatin' yuh?" Gates, a roving cowpuncher who worked himself past Griggsby to approach the seated man. His eyes fell on the blanketed form on the table, and he yelped in dismay. "Another one?" he whispered. "What dyuh mean, Gates?" inquired the sheriff. "I reckon I'm spooked," he said hoarsely. "But I jest run into somethin' ugly. I found George Pelham and his wife dead." "What's that?" ejaculated Griggsby so sharply that even Matlock stiffened in his chair. "The Pelhams was murdered," Gates explained. "I found Pelham in the yard riddled with bullets. His wife was in the house in bed, her head laid open with a hatchet. He rode over to the Circle Bar and told Ben Barton, he took some of his men and went over, sendin' me on to town. He told me to be sure to tell you about this, Mr. Griggsby." The sheriff heaved himself erect and leaned on the edge of the table. "Reckon I'll have to ride out and look things over," he said. "You go back with me, Gates. Doc, think you can stand another inquest? Grab your tools and come on."

Most price changes were downward but losses were generally 25 cents a share or less and a sprinkling of shares made a little progress. ## Sportsmen Seek To Ban Antlerless Deer

Warren, Aug. 22.—(P)—Sportsmen seeking to ban antlerless deer hunting in their counties Nov. 27-28 already are starting to circulate petitions on the subject.

The State Game Commission today it has received requests for abrogation of antlerless deer hunting from 11 counties. They are Elk, Pike, Centre, Adams, Juniata, Forest, Fulton, Armstrong, Somerset, Franklin and Tioga.

A commission spokesman said the petition requests are expected before Sept. 1, the first day signatures can be turned over to the agency. Petitions must be submitted no later than Oct. 28.

The law provides that 51 per cent of the holders of hunting licenses issued in a specific county and farmers in the affected area can prohibit deer shooting in that county.

The 1949 legislature provided that abrogation on a county basis after sportsmen demanded a right to judge for themselves there was a surplus of deer.

The commission set a two-day antlerless deer season in advance of the buck season set for Nov. through Dec. 9. A bag limit of single deer was fixed, either one antlerless or one legal deer, but not both.

The one-day deer season of 1949 is expanded to two days for 50 because of complaints by farmers that the deer herd was doing too much damage to crops.

It is only destroying crops but also taking themselves out of forage, a commission said.

The 1949 deer season saw 84,120 deer killed. The total is expected to pass the 100,000 mark this year.

Last year, deer hunting was banned by local request in Bedford, Erie, Clearfield, Forest, Fulton, Franklin, Greene, Perry and Pike counties.

Spouts Post 4-1 Win In First Game of Midget League Series

The Spouts, Eighth Ward team sponsored by the West Penn Oil Co., won the opening round of the Hot Stove Midget Championship play-off series last night by defeating the Sons of Italy, lower Fourth Ward squad, 4-1, on Jackson field.

The same two teams will clash again in the second game of the best out of three series on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at Beatty field. The game originally was scheduled for War Memorial Midget field but was shifted to Beatty at the request of the team manager.

Chief Bennett for the Spouts and Mazzuca for the Sons of Italy squared off in a tight mound duel. Bennett whiffed six batters, allowed no walks, and yielded five hits, all singles. Mazzuca fanned eight batters, walked one man, and was nicked for six safeties, including four singles, a double by Shattuck and a triple by LeTrent.

The Spouts counted three of their runs in the first inning. Donaldson was safe on an error, Bennett was out, pitcher to first, with Donaldson advancing to second and Griffin hitting the only walk of the game. LeTrent was safe on an error, with Donaldson scoring.

Shattuck clouted a long double to plate both Griffin and LeTrent. DeFazio fanned and Johnson flied out to centerfield to end the inning.

The Spouts got their fourth marker in the fourth inning when Shattuck singled, advanced to third on an error at first base, and scored on Johnson's single.

Sons of Italy counted their lone tally in the first frame. Spattifor reached first on a single and went all the way around when the Spouts catcher threw wild in an effort to nail him at second on an attempted steal. The Sons of Italy succeeded in getting a man aboard in each of the next four innings, but left them all stranded.

Shattuck Among 78 Candidates For Penn State Football Squad

Pre season football training is now in full swing at Penn State College, and Ted Shattuck, outstanding Warren high school athlete of a couple of seasons ago, is listed among the promising of a 78 candidates to report to Coach Charles A. (Rip) Engle.

Engle, who is the first non-alumnus coach at Penn State since 1929, said drills will be held twice daily, 9:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.

The two-a-day drills will continue every day, Sundays excepted, until the week preceding the season's opener against Georgetown September 30.

According to reports received here, the Nittany Lion coach is highly impressed with Shattuck's record as a fullback, and feels that the 185-pound sophomore will press last year's regular varsity performers for a starting berth at the position left vacant through the graduation of Frang Rogel.

BOWLING MEETING

A meeting of the Metropolitan Club Bowling League officers and team representatives will be held this evening at seven o'clock at the North Warren Bowladrome.

PONY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

The Olean Oilers finished with six runs in the last of the ninth to nip the Wellsville Senators, 11 to 10, in the Pony League last night.

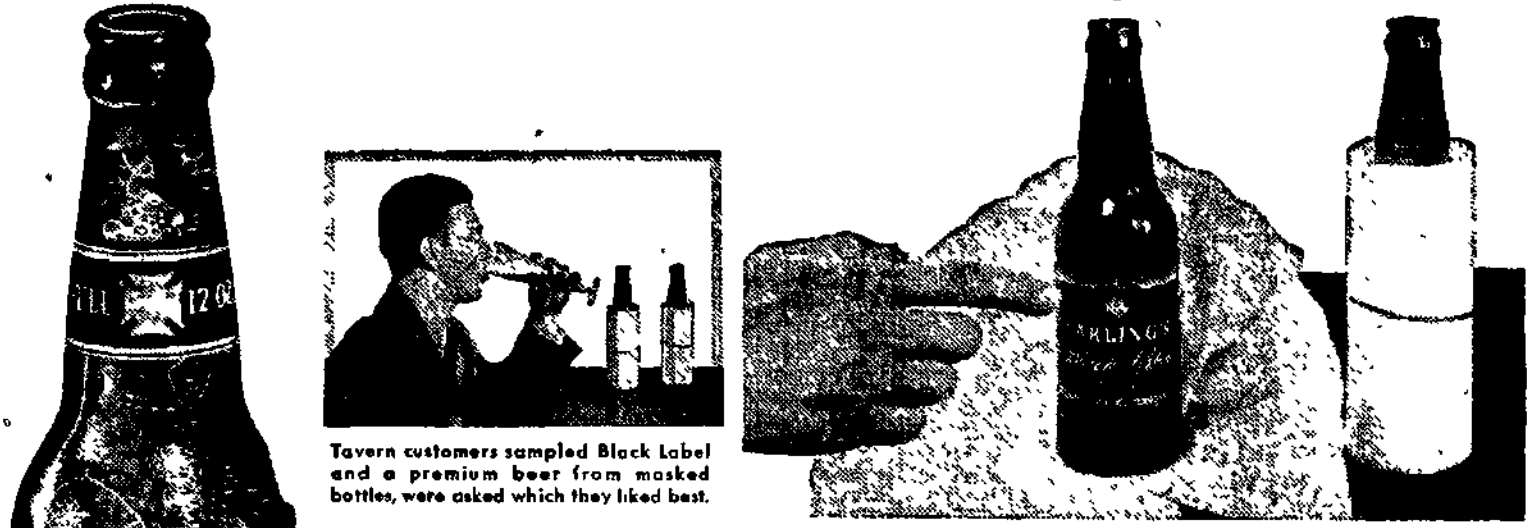

But the Oilers remained seven games behind the first place Hornell Dodgers, who survived a barrage of five home runs by the Hamilton Cardinals to win, 12 to 7.

The Batavia Clippers, fighting for a playoff berth, swept a double-header from the Lockport Reds by 4-3 and 7-1 scores.

The Bradford Phillies and the Jamestown Falcons, also in the battle for the fourth playoff spot, split a doubleheader with Jamestown winning the opener 6-3 and Bradford taking the nightcap 14-8. Manager Barney Lutz tripled with the bases loaded and batted in five runs to pace Bradford's second game attack.

Expert Marksman Booked For Annual Sportsmen's Event

One of the highlights of the Warren Field and Stream Club's annual Field Days, scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week at Wilder field, will be the appearance of Jim Levack, known professionally as the world's champion rifle and pistol shot.

Levack will be at Wilder field on Saturday.

As a member of the world's championship rodeo and as a professional exhibitor for Winchester, Levack toured the country for many years demonstrating a repertoire of trick shooting which is as varied as it is spectacular. As sports writer Francis Dunn said "Jim can do everything imaginable with his guns. He'll knock the ash off your cigar or throw his gun and target up in the air, catch the gun and hit the target before it descends." He can throw a moth ball into the air, shatter the ball and hits the empty shell as it flies from his gun. He throws an ordinary warner whose hole is covered with adhesive tape, into the air and then pierces the hole with a .22 Cal. bullet. In four minutes, and with two hundred and fifty bullets, he can outline the head of an Indian, or of Buffalo Bill, or any other historical figure suggested by the crowd. This led one enthusiastic sports writer to dub Levack "the world's greatest artist of powder and lead."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

THREE N. T. BID CAN BE AN INVITATION

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Please settle a bidding dispute for us" asks a Chicago correspondent. "We were not proud of the way we bid this hand. We managed to salvage the merest shred of our self-respect by stealing a trick in the play."

"West opened the ten of hearts and dummy's ace won the trick. Declarer then led the jack of spades, and East ducked, thinking that South intended to take a finesse. As it happened, the jack of spades held the trick, and declarer now had 13 of the coldest tricks ever seen on land or sea: one spade, three hearts, four diamonds, and five clubs."

"When the smoke had cleared North complained bitterly about South's 'closing' bid of three no-trump. He maintained that by jumping to a game bid South had shown no interest in slam. If that were really South's message when he bid three no-trump, North could hardly afford to bid a slam single-handed.

"South claimed that there is no such thing as a 'closing' jump to game in no-trump. He said that a two no-trump. North should not worry about his partner's intention. The hand must be worth a slam whether South wanted one or not.

"Actually, South claims, he had not intended to stop at game but was merely intended to show his entire hand in one bid.

"Who is right?"

South is 100 per cent right. The response of three no-trump shows just about the same strength that is needed for an opening bid of one no-trump. It indicates a hand with all of the unbid suits stopped and probably some help in the bid suit. The total strength is about three and a half honor tricks.

Obviously a hand that shows three and a half honor tricks opposite an opening bid cannot be anxious to stop at game. If the original bidders has extra strength there ought to be a play for slam, and the responder is just as anxious as his partner to get to that slam.

After South's very proper jump response of three no-trump, North might have bid a slam in no-trump immediately or he might have made some exploratory bids first. However, he should never have demanded of passing.

A new carpet may be laid over an old one, so that the old one serves as padding for the new.

DISCARDED CAKE

Medieval bakers had no bakers. To prevent bread from scorching, they spread a coating of dough over the floor and placed the white dough on this. The coarse dough was similar to our brown bread, but it was called it cake and discarded after the white bread was done.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington—(AP)—Many of the top leaders in this country think the U. S. Army should occupy all Korea, if the Americans whip the North Koreans in the present fighting.

But, so far as can be learned, no decision has been made on this. There's a good reason why the U. S. might not be able to carry out such a decision, if it were made.

The reason is Russia. If Russia sees the North Koreans losing, it may send its own troops in to occupy all North Korea down to the 38th parallel of latitude which divides north from south.

If that happens, we'll have to stop south of the 38th parallel anyway, whether we like it or not, unless we're ready to go to war with Russia, for crossing the line then would mean that.

After World War II Russia took over North Korea down to the 38th parallel, set up a Communist Korean government, armed it, and then got out.

We took over Korea south of the line, helped set up the South Korean republic, left it practically unarmed, and then got out. This left the North Koreans free to attack the south when they were ready. They did. And then the U. S. moved back in.

If the U. S. army, the North Koreans and drove them north of the 38th parallel, but itself stops south of it, then the North Koreans once more will be free to re-arm.

So long as we keep an army in South Korea, the North Koreans probably would not attempt another attack. But how long would this country be willing to keep an army in South Korea?

True, this country could arm the South Koreans and get out. But if war started between north and south again, then all the present shooting and loss of life would be for nothing.

On the other hand if the U. S. acting for the United Nations—occupied all of Korea it could disarm the Communists try to stamp them out, and maybe set up a single non-Communist government for all Korea.

What would Russia do? Sit idly by while the U. S. took over all Korea, which is smack up against the Communist territory of China and Russia?

Or would it once more move into North Korea, taking it over down to the 38th parallel, as it did before? The Russians could argue.

U. S. occupation of Korea would give this country a strong foothold and base in Asia, for use in case of any future war with Russia.

The Russians might point out that the U. S. would hardly sit idly by if the Russians tried to occupy Mexico or Canada, which are smack up against the United States.

Once the Russians moved into North Korea, they could not be driven out except by force, which would be war.

This story raises more questions than it answers. At this moment the answers haven't appeared.

YOUNGVILLE

Youngville, Aug. 22—William Overturf, game warden from Corry, is moving into the second floor apartment in the Agnew Block, formerly the First National Bank building, which has been undergoing much interior improvement. Youngville friends will welcome the newcomer and his family.

Cars have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson, who, with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Merry, are touring the west and having a wonderful time. Latest reports came from Yellowstone National Park.

Registrations locally showed 48 Republicans and 20 Democrats. Of this number, 29 Republicans and 8 Democrats were Youngville residents, the others from the township. Three of the number were former Warren residents, changing their registrations.

Mrs. Gertrude Smith has been a guest of her sister, Mrs. Decker, at Lander and had the pleasure of helping to celebrate the latter's birthday anniversary.

A very fine ice cream social was enjoyed Saturday afternoon and evening on the porch and lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Unterreiner, 304 East Main street, under the sponsorship of the Auxiliary of the local Volunteer Fire Company. Rain in the early part of the afternoon made some difference in attendance but many enjoyed the ice cream, coffee and home made cake served by the ladies. Lights were arranged by the firemen so that the ladies could see on the lawn in the evening. The ladies had as their aim the purchase of a second coffee maker to be used at the fire hall.

Mrs. Belle Kay and Mrs. Maye Hoover were in attendance at the funeral service, held in Corry, for Mrs. Belle Kay's cousin, Miss Alma Terrill, a former Youngville resident and in the past a frequent visitor. Burial was made in the Youngville IOOF cemetery.

Department of Agriculture scientists have discovered that the first day out chicks thrive best at 84 to 85 degrees.

Annual Voice Of Democracy Contest Planned This Fall

Plans for the fourth annual Voice of Democracy contest have been announced in Washington by committee chairman Robert Richards. The contest carries four $500 college scholarship awards for high school students. Contestants will be required to write and voice five minute radio scripts on the subject, "I Speak for Democracy".

The contest is sponsored by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and the radio-television manufacturers association. It is endorsed by the United States Office of Education.

Richards said a manual on the contest will be sent out about September 1st to principals of some 28,000 high schools all over the country. Copies will also go to all broadcasting stations, all local Jaycee chapters and radio dealers in all communities.

This will be followed about October 2nd by model transcripts to be broadcast by local stations as guides for the contestants. The National awards will be made in Washington in February.

Warren County school students have entered the contest for the past two years under sponsorship of the local Jaycees in cooperation with WNAE, local school officials and local radio dealers. Last year's winner was Carolyn Cowden.

Today's Business Mirror

BY SAM DAWSON

New York, Aug. 21—(AP)—The treasury hopes to finance the Korean war with "cheap money". At the same time, the federal reserve board hopes to make money "cheap" and scarcer for you when you try to borrow at the bank.

Many people say it won't work. But here is what the government apparently has in mind: Government interest rates will continue low on the money it must borrow to wage the war. At the same time the reserve board is out to see that there is less money around for businessmen to borrow. And presumably that will mean businessmen will have to pay higher interest rates at the banks. All of this is aimed at curbing inflation.

At least, that's the spot view taken by many in Wall Street of the two announcements over the weekend. The treasury will seek to refund $13.5 billion of outstanding securities with 13-month 1½ per cent notes. The federal reserve bank of New York today starts asking 1½ per cent instead of 1¼ per cent for discounting commercial paper of member banks.

Some contend that the plan can't work, that the treasury and the federal reserve are at cross purposes, the former actually feeding inflation, while the bank tries to curb it.

These critics point out that the reserve bank is trying to curb inflation by making it less attractive for the member banks to sell their commercial paper to get more money to lend to other industrial bank customers. The idea is that the member banks will thus have less money to lend to businessmen, and there will be less "cheap money" around to power the inflationary boom. Also, the commercial banks will tend to raise the interest rates on what money they lend to businessmen. At the same time, the critics say, the treasury is refusing to make money dearer. Its reason, of course, is that it wants to hold down the total of interest payments which the government is paying out on its huge national debt. That saves the taxpayer money. It also may encourage more government borrowing, pending, however.

Of the millions of feet of rope that "Pete" Rossi has helped make during the past 43 years, many thousands have been bought by Bell Telephone. You may have seen some of this rope being used by telephone linemen, right in your own neighborhood.

Other Pennsylvania-made products, too, are used daily... in large quantities... by the telephone industry. Bell Telephone purchases help provide work and wages for skilled men and women in some 2,000 companies, large and small, in more than 200 Pennsylvania communities.

Any way you look at it, the successful operation of the telephone business means a great deal to the steady employment of a great many Pennsylvanians, both in and out of the telephone industry.
